

Privacy Statement

We respect your privacy and do not store any information that you may send us via this website or use it for any purpose other than communicating with you.

We do not sell or pass your data on to any third party unless required to do so by law.

Cookie Policy

Cookies are small text files which are downloaded to your computer or mobile device when you visit a website or application. Each cookie is unique to your web browser. It will contain the website name and anonymous information, made up of digits and numbers.

Cookies are very useful and do lots of different jobs which help to make your experience on websites as smooth as possible. (e.g. they remember your preferences when you return to a website and allow developers to regularly check the functionality of the site).

We use Google Analytics to generate anonymous analytical cookies, to monitor visitor numbers and their journey around the site.
